HIKING & DISCOVERING

The Brandeiro route is located at the northern end of Serra da Peneda. It involves part of the territory of Gave and Parada do Monte, two villages with a strong tradition of transhumance (seasonal displacement of animals to places that offer better conditions during part of the year).

Brandeiros (name given to shepherds) climbed with their animals, leaving the lower altitude fields available to grow corn and beans.

The route starts at Branda da Aveleira (A), next to a small and pleasant lake and then goes, on the right (preferred direction), towards Mourim.

After crossing the asphalted road, you cross Chã do Alto do Corisco (which gives its name to what was, at the time of its construction, the largest wind farm in Minho) from where you can see the extensive mountains of Portugal and Galicia and the wide valley of Minho, whose River sculpted and drew the terrain of this mountain region. From an altitude peak of almost 1,200 meters, you descend to 950 metres where you enjoy and rest in one of the three Brandas of the mountain. Speaking of Mourim (B), as in other Brandas, we remember the ancestors who dedicated themselves to building small stone houses that survive the harsh winters and "refresh the soul" in the summer. In a beautiful landscape, rich in pleasant green and crystal-clear waters, the trees build the refinement of a well-ventilated place, where breathing is simple.

You then follow the old path that connected Mourim to Parada do Monte, along which you cross an oak grove (C), extremely beautiful and of natural value, which invites you to take a deep breath. After the steep descent, you cross a small stream and again reach the road that will lead you through paths full of stories, to Branda De Covelo (D) where you can also enjoy a breath-taking landscape and a set of typical harmoniously framed mountain buildings.

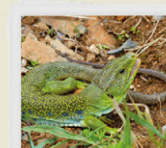

Once you visit this picturesque Branda, the path leads you back to the starting point (Branda Da Aveleira).

BRANDA DE COVELO
One of the two Brandas in the parish of Gave. You can enjoy absolutely stunning landscape, a set of typical and almost unchanged mountain buildings.

BRANDA DA AVELEIRA
One of the two Brandas in the parish of Gave. Originally used for grazing cattle in the summer, it is now a tourist village. A favourable location to explore vast architectural, cultural, natural, archaeological, historical, and geological heritage. Traces of the ice age can be seen here: the Glacier Valley of the Vez.

OAK GROVES
Extremely breath-taking nature. Take a deep breath.

BRANDA DE MOURIM
Located at about 950 metres altitude, it is one of the three Brandas of Parada do Monte. Speaking of Mourim, the memory of the ancestors is pierced into the construction of small stone houses that survive the harsh winters and "refresh the soul" in summer. In a beautiful landscape, rich in pleasant green and crystal-clear waters, the trees build the refinement of a well-ventilated place, where breathing is simple.
